Narrative Writing Piece over Beowulf

Choose one of the three options and then write 600-650 words in a story format, or it can be typed.

1. Rewrite the battle between Grendel's mother and Beowulf with an alternate ending.
2. Write a prequel story for Grendel's mother.
3. Write a battle between Beowulf and a new foe.

Make sure to use the following in your piece of writing.

- These are the minimum, and therefore what a “C” is.
- 2 examples of sensory imagery, highlighted in orange.
- 4 examples of strong verbs, highlighted in light blue.
- 4 examples of unusual adjectives to describe something, highlighted in yellow.
- Similes, metaphors, and hyperboles, highlighted in gold.
- An excellent hook as an opening paragraph.
- A proper Resolution

Remember that the story should follow a pattern of:

- Introduction
  - All characters and conflicts are introduced
- Rising Action
  - The conflicts build as the author develops the story
- Climax
  - The conflicts come to a head, and this will be the most intense part of the story
- Falling Action
  - Author deals with aftermath of the Climax
- Resolution
  - Author resolves anything left over and ties up the lose ends
