WebQuest for Ethics in Psychology

Use the Internet to find out the following information about Ethics. Make sure to write in complete sentences, and no Wikipedia, thus you will also need to write out the “url” of the website you used. Each answer must be at least two full sentences unless stated otherwise.

1. Why even have ethics for psychology in the first place, you’re just messing with people’s perception right?
2. Who decides what the ethic for psychology are in the United States?
3. What does “unambiguous” mean? (1 sentence)
4. What is a “moral” issue? (1 sentence)
5. Why does that word matter to something that is basically a moral issue?
6. When it comes to psychology do the needs of the many outweigh the needs of the few in the experiment? (Opinion, answer has to be defended because it cannot just be right or wrong.)
7. What is Informed Consent?
8. Is there ever a reason that a person can be lied to or mislead during a psychological experiment?
9. Are psychologists always able to predict whether or not the subjects of an experiment or study are going to be safe?
10. What was the Sandford Prison Experiment (Not the Movie)?
11. Why was it so shocking, and terrifying?
12. What are the laws regarding the releasing of names with respect to an experiment, specifically the participates?